Connecting Audiences and Teams through Laughter and Juggling

Paul Miller speaks on topics related to achieving personal and professional growth at annual conferences, professional development seminars, sales meetings, recognition banquets, and leadership retreats.

After graduating from Bentley University with a degree in accounting, Paul veered from the expected path of becoming a CPA and picked up a set of juggling balls and a job as a waiter. Five years were spent studying comedy greats, street performing, presenting experimental works, and honing his ability to connect with any and all audiences.

In 1999 Paul founded Flow Circus with a mission to promote active learning and play through the juggling arts. He has partnered with organizations, associations, and front line staff to design, deliver, and implement sustainable hands-on programming.

Paul has presented all across the country including Fortune 500 companies, off-Broadway, and on Disney Cruise Lines. However he is most proud of his time spent with the USO in North Carolina. As part of the Warrior Reset program Paul worked with active troops to develop resilience and leadership skills through skill based play.

Juggler's Mindset (Keynote)

A unique and interactive motivational presentation that begins with a hilarious juggling demonstration illustrating the most common obstacles people face when learning this new skill. Armed with this new insight, audience members learn actionable and transferable strategies for becoming a better goal setter, a more productive problem solver, and a stronger leader. These strategies are not presented and then forgotten. Every audience member has the opportunity to physically embrace and embody the ideas from their seat while some boldly step up and accept the juggling challenge on stage! No matter your group or set-up, everyone is guaranteed to leave inspired and ready for action.

Interactive Comedy Show (Entertainment)

Refreshing, one of a kind, interactive comedy performance. 100% clean comedy, juggling and magic show that happens as much off stage as it does on. Paul's inviting demeanor and quick wit keeps audience interactions and the laughs, rolling. This performance is as much comedy show as motivational team building party. Paul is professional, easy to work with, and never offending or inappropriate. You and the rest of the audience are always the stars. The presentation can be adapted to incorporate your event's theme. Whether you're planning an annual banquet, year-end celebration, sales meeting, conference, or other special event, you can be confident that everyone will leave thoroughly refreshed.
